NOTE TO: All NIOs
FROM : Chairman, National Intelligence Council
SUBJECT: My Memorandum on Restriction of Dissemination

There has been some concern expressed over the implementation of the guidance provided in my memorandum to policy consumers of NIC and CIA finished intelligence. I hope the following points will help clarify any confusion:

- The memorandum I am sending out essentially pertains only to finished intelligence

[Redacted]

25X1

That is essentially a common sense judgment call on the part of the NIO.

- I have not imposed numerical restrictions on the number of copies being disseminated to the Intelligence Community.

- Your memorandum forwarding a draft estimate should reflect whether or not the paper is to receive a restricted dissemination. If you know in advance that a restricted paper will require greater dissemination than 25 copies, so indicate, including the number of copies that ultimately will be needed.
- Requests from policy agencies for copies of restricted channel material that go beyond the original approved dissemination will need to be approved by me.
- Information relating to specially numbered paper for tightly controlled typescript memoranda should be directed to [Redacted] in CPAS.

-- Above all, common sense and good judgment should apply in these matters. I think it unwise to lay down too many rules or restrictions that would inhibit our flexibility on this.
